Case No. 24-cv-04274-JLR-BCM

PLAINTIFFS' AMENDED RULE 26(a)(1) DISCLOSURES

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(1), Plaintiffs Cengage Learning, Inc. (“Cengage”), Bedford, Freeman & Worth Publishing Group, LLC d/b/a Macmillan Learning (“Macmillan Learning”) and Macmillan Holdings, LLC (“Macmillan Holdings”) (collectively, with Macmillan Learning, “Macmillan”), Elsevier Inc. and Elsevier B.V. (collectively, with Elsevier Inc., “Elsevier”), and McGraw Hill LLC (“McGraw Hill”) (collectively, with Cengage, Macmillan, and Elsevier, “Plaintiffs”) make the following amended disclosures to Defendant Google LLC (“Google” or “Defendant”).

INTRODUCTION

1. These disclosures are made upon information presently known by Plaintiffs and without prejudice to Plaintiffs’ right to produce during discovery or trial, or right to use before or during trial, additional information or documents that are (i) subsequently discovered; (ii) subsequently determined to be relevant to the parties’ claims or defenses; or (iii) subsequently determined to have been omitted from this or any supplemental or amended disclosure statement.

2. Plaintiffs also expressly reserve all objections to the use of these disclosures or any of the information or documents found or referenced herein for any purpose in this case or any other proceeding. By referring to individuals and documents in the initial disclosure process, Plaintiffs make no representations regarding the relevance of any particular information they may possess. In addition, by identifying individuals and documents as part of the initial disclosure process, Plaintiffs do not waive their right to object to any future discovery requests in this case on any basis.

3. Plaintiffs reserve the right to supplement or amend these disclosures at any time pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26, the Local Rules of this Court, and any applicable standing orders or practices.

4. Unless otherwise stated, capitalized terms used herein have the same meaning as the definitions for those terms set forth in the Amended Complaint (Dkt. No. 38).

DISCLOSURES

Plaintiffs reserve the right to rely on any persons or entities identified in Defendant's Rule 26(a)(1) Disclosures (and any supplements or amendments thereto); any persons or entities identified in any party's discovery responses; and any person or entity deposed in this action. Plaintiffs' investigation is ongoing, and, as such, there may be other individuals who have information relevant to Plaintiffs' claims, but whom Plaintiffs have not specifically identified at this time; Plaintiffs reserve the right to supplement or amend this identification of persons or entities based on information obtained during discovery and/or through its ongoing investigation into the matters relevant to this action.

(B) A copy—or description by category and location—of all documents, electronically stored information, and tangible things that the disclosing party has in its possession, custody or control and may use to support its claims or defenses, unless the use would be solely for impeachment.

1. Copyright registrations for Plaintiffs' Authentic Works and/or additional documents showing Plaintiffs' ownership and control of those works—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.
2. Trademark registrations for Plaintiffs' Marks and/or other documents showing Plaintiffs' ownership and control of the Marks—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.
3. Plaintiffs' Infringement Notices and related evidence—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.
4. Evidence regarding Infringing Shopping Ads, including such advertisements displaying Plaintiffs' trademarks—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.
5. Evidence regarding Pirate Sellers/Pirate Sites—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.
6. Plaintiffs' correspondence with Defendant regarding the matters referenced in the Complaint, including pirate websites advertising on Google Shopping, Infringing Shopping Ads, Pirate Sellers, the advertisement of digital books on Google

- Shopping, and/or the advertisement of Plaintiffs' legitimate works on Google Shopping—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.
7. Evidence of Plaintiffs' and/or their authorized distributors' use of Shopping Ads—respective Plaintiffs and/or Plaintiffs' counsel.

Plaintiffs reserve the right to supplement this list of categories of documents based on information obtained during discovery and/or through their ongoing investigation into the matters relevant to this action.

(C) A computation of each category of damages claimed by the disclosing party.

Plaintiffs are entitled to obtain damages to the fullest extent of the law applicable to Defendant's violation of their rights. Plaintiffs are not in a position at this time to provide a precise computation of damages because information bearing on the subject of damages—specifically including, but not limited to, the extent of Defendant's infringement, the willfulness of Defendant's infringement, and the financial benefits received in connection therewith, including Defendant's financial documents—is in Defendant's possession, custody, or control or will otherwise be developed during the discovery process. The Advisory Committee that drafted the initial disclosure provisions of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(1)(C) acknowledged that initial disclosures regarding damages may not be feasible in certain cases such as this. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 26 Advisory Committee's Notes, 1993 Amendments ("Likewise, a party would not be expected to provide a calculation of damages which . . . depends on information in the possession of another party or person."). Plaintiffs reserve the right to supplement these damages disclosures based on information obtained during discovery and/or through their ongoing investigation into the matters relevant to this action.

(D) Any insurance agreement under which an insurance business may be liable to satisfy all or part of a possible judgment in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment.

Plaintiffs are unaware of such agreement.
